

What do you like most about the Seder? You answer and choose one more person also to answer

Ask some people at the table what is their favorite Seder memory. Why do they like that moment?

Pick 2 of the 7 dwarfs (Doc, Bashful, Grumpy, Sneezy, Dopey, Sleepy, and Happy) and imagine what questions they would ask at a Seder.

There will never be another Moses. But who do you think was the second greatest Jewish leader? Pick two people at the table to answer.

Lots of Jews were scared to leave Egypt with Moses. Pick 2 people at the table and have one convince the other to leave

Ask everyone at the table to make sounds like the Egyptians drowning in the Red Sea. Altogether.

*Ask someone to be Mrs. Pharaoh trying to convince her husband to let the Jews go.*

*Pick someone to sing Ma Nishtanah-- with their mouth closed!*

Pick up a spoon and pretend it is a telephone. Give it to someone at the table and tell them that Pharaoh is calling.
What do they want to say to him?

Pretend you are a lawyer and you are arguing with God that God is being unfair to the Egyptians and punishing them too much. What would your arguments be and how do you think God would respond?
Pick someone to be God to respond.

Mitzrayim, the Hebrew word for Egypt, means a narrow, constraining place.
In what ways do you create your own narrow places, your own Mitzrayim?

In the Passover story, the ancient Israelites experience God directly.
Have you ever experienced the Divine directly?

The Jewish people find great meaning and strength in the Passover story.
What life experiences have strengthened you the most or given you the most meaning?

There are many lessons that come from Passover/Pesach.
What is your favorite teaching, value, or lesson of Passover/Pesach?

